Identification and Verification

The client has been identified on the basis of its constitutional documents, certificate of registration and data obtained from official registers. The authority of persons acting on its behalf has been confirmed by corporate resolutions and identity documents.

Information supplied by the client has been reconciled against public registers. No discrepancy requiring further enquiry was identified. Copies of the verified documents are held on file.

Sanctions and Watchlist Screening

The client, its officers and its shareholders have been screened against international and national restrictive-measures lists and against lists of persons associated with the financing of terrorism. No match was returned.

Screening for politically exposed persons and their close associates has been carried out in respect of the officers and shareholders. Name-only matches were excluded on the basis of additional identifying attributes.

Source of Funds

The client's funds derive from operating revenue, evidenced by financial statements for preceding periods and by account turnover. No material non-operating receipts were reported for the period under review.

The composition of receipts is consistent with the declared business activity and scale of operations. Analysis of turnover identified no pattern warranting further examination.

Nature and Expected Volume of Activity

The declared activity comprises settlements with suppliers and customers in the ordinary course, tax and statutory payments, payroll and debt service. Expected volumes are consistent with the scale of the client's operations.

The client has not declared any use of the accounts unrelated to the stated activity. Divergence of actual turnover from that declared is addressed through ongoing monitoring.

Risk Rating

The client's risk rating has been determined by reference to business activity, geography of operations, ownership structure, counterparty profile and service history. The resulting assessment is recorded in the compliance risk system.

The rating is reviewed upon any event affecting the assessment, including a change in ownership structure, in management, or in the nature of the operations conducted.

Review Cycle

The file is subject to periodic review at the interval prescribed by internal rules for the applicable risk rating. An off-cycle review may be initiated by the compliance function on the basis of transaction monitoring.

On review, information concerning the client, its shareholders and its officers is refreshed and the continued accuracy of previously supplied data is confirmed. The outcome is recorded on the file.

Transaction Monitoring

The client's transactions are subject to automated ongoing monitoring against defined detection scenarios. Alerts are reviewed by the responsible officer within the prescribed timeframe.

The outcome of each review is recorded together with the decision taken and the basis for it. Review materials are retained on the file and are available to internal audit.

File Contents and Retention

The file comprises identification documents, ownership information, screening results, evidence of source of funds, and the materials of ongoing monitoring and of previous reviews.

The file is retained electronically in a system with access controls. The retention period runs from termination of the business relationship and is determined by law and by internal rules.
